For The Kids: Have fun, make friends, release creativity

- Create multi-media art work using concrete, paper mâché, paint, whatever inspires you
- Art works will evolve and develop over the 3 weekend sessions
- Make new friends while working together on fun projects
- Bring home art that you can put on display at home and be proud of
- No rules on what you can create – express yourself!

For The Parents: The Art camp provides a great platform for children to enhance a variety of skills:

- Develop social skills by working collaboratively on a group project
- Develop friendships with children outside the normal peer group
- Work with very tactile media (concrete, paper mâché, texture elements) to stimulate sensory experience
- Explore personal creative expression
- Develop fine motor and motor planning skills
- High ratio of facilitators to children

Is this camp right for my child? This camp is specifically designed for children who are experiencing learning or developmental issues including Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), Down Syndrome, CP, ADD, ADHD or ABI. The programming is structured to address social issues, task transition, fine and gross motor skills. If you have any questions about whether this camp is appropriate for your child please contact us at Creative Therapy Health Services for more information.

What should my child bring? We will be getting a little sloppy in the name of creativity! Your child should wear some older clothes that are OK to get messy.

Registration: Space is limited to approximately 10 children at the camp. Please confirm participation by contacting Creative Therapy and/or submitting your registration well before the start of the camp. You can register by bringing the form and fees to the Creative Therapy office, send an e-mail to rob@creativeot.com or give us a call at (519)954-5026.
